STRANGERS' RESTAURANT

Open for lunch Monday to Friday, 12 pm to 3pm

Strangers' Restaurant provides a rare opportunity for the public to experience fine dining at Parliament House. The award-winning culinary team design rotating menus throughout the year to showcase the wonderful delicacies and unique regions of New South Wales.

Dining with History

Historically, guests to Parliament including visiting dignitaries, consulate representatives and members of the Royal family were referred to as 'strangers', thus the restaurant became known as the place 'where strangers become friends'. Today, we invite people to continue this tradition.

"There are no strangers here, only friends you haven't yet met".

William Butler Yeats (1865 - 1939) poet

PARLIAMENT HOUSE

Discover and explore Australia's oldest Parliament House

Located within Sydney's historic precinct, this heritage-listed building is rich in history and full of hidden surprises.

Originally built in 1816 as Australia's first hospital, this remarkable building has evolved through careful expansion and restorative work to accommodate the two democratically elected Houses of New South Wales Parliament. Visitors can witness the working parliament, discover key moments in the history of Australian politics and explore the impressive collection of artwork.

There are nine unique event spaces within Parliament House that are available to hire, including a stunning auditorium, a large dining room with garden views and a majestic library which dates back to 1905.

PARKES ROOM

This heritage boardroom, located opposite the Jubilee Room, forms part of the original building, built in 1816. The room features priceless art and historic artefacts from the Parliament's rare antique collection. Ideal for small meetings or as breakout space for the Jubilee Room.

This room is named after Sir Henry Parkes (1815-1896), who is commonly referred to as the 'Father of the Federation' for his role in advocating for a Federal Council of the colonies of Australia. Arriving in New South Wales in 1839 as a 24-year old penniless migrant, he rose to become Premier of New South Wales for a record five times.

FOUNTAIN COURT

This unique event space is ideal for pre dinner reception canapés & drinks. The open space features marbled floors and ever-changing art exhibitions. The fountain represents the heart of Parliament and links the old and the new precincts together. It is here that the 19th century, heritage foyers for the Legislative Assembly and Legislative Council meet the modern structures added throughout the years to serve NSW Parliament.

The Fountain Court is bookable on a request basis and requires the approval of both Presiding Officers. This space can accommodate 200 people on a non-sitting day and 100 on a sitting day.

STRANGERS' ROOM

This large versatile dining room featuring panoramic garden views is ideal for conferences, seminars, luncheons, award dinners and stand-up cocktail reception events.

The Fountain Court area leading into the Strangers' Foyer can be booked in conjunction with the room for pre-dinner reception drinks.

The Strangers' Room is a meeting place where members of Parliament greet visiting dignitaries including consuls-generals, ambassadors and even members of the Royal family. Historically, these guests were referred to as 'strangers', thus creating the saying 'where strangers become friends'.
